

Company overview

A SECURITY PARTNER YOU CAN COUNT ON

Security services to protect your organisation against the threats of today and tomorrow

Working as an extension of your team to combat cyber threats

With threats ever-evolving, the need to continually enhance your organisation's cyber resilience remains as important as ever. So too does choosing the right security partner.

As a leading UK-based provider of Managed Detection and Response and security assessment services, Redscan can be trusted to provide the support, expertise and innovation you need to stay on top of your security.

Our offensive security expertise means we have first-hand knowledge of the latest adversarial tactics and how to more swiftly identify and respond to them.

By delivering high quality support and guidance, we are committed to delivering security outcomes that make a difference.

Redscan is recognised as a representative MDR vendor by Gartner and the 'one to choose in the UK' by Bloor.***
